REPUBLICANS
GAIN VOTES
IN CONGRESSHOOVER HAS SAFE MAJORITY TO DEAL WITH

BY RAYMOND Z. HENLE

A congress with a healthy Republican working majority has been elected for Herbert Hoover to deal with.

The party in power has increased its slender plurality in the senate and although the independent wing there is still intact, a number of its members will return to Washington with a record behind them of having solicited the election of Mr. Hoover.

While the gain in Republican strength in the senate has given the party increased prestige there, the house has seen enough of its Democratic members overturned so that the already substantial Republican working majority promises to increase itself.

As compared with the present party alignment in the senate of 47 Republicans, 46 Democrats, one Farmer Laborite and two vacancies, the new vote-strength on the basis of present returns stands 54 Republicans, 40 Democrats, one Farmer Laborite and one vacancy. This arrangement may be shifted one way or the other when Tuesday's election results are known definitely.

House Vote Interesting
The independent wing of the Republican party in the senate has emerged from yesterday's election intact. However, Borah of Idaho, Brookhart of Iowa, and Nye and Frazier of North Dakota, who have voted with the Democrats on occasions, worked for the election of the Democrats. On the other hand, two Republican members of the group—Norris of Nebraska, and Blaine of Wisconsin—worked against him in favor of Governor Smith.

In many respects the most interesting phase of the congressional elections showed itself in the balloting for house members. In addition to seeing the election of the first negro to membership in the House in many years, the election disclosed a general willingness of the people to stand by their party, as far as election of house members was concerned.

This was generally true throughout the country except along the border line—especially in Kentucky—where the largest number of Democratic upsets followed in the wake of the Hoover vote piling. In Kentucky six Republicans defeated Democratic incumbents and in Virginia at least two Democratic congressmen were voted out of office.

A Republican negro, Oscar DePriest, was elected to the house to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Madden Republican stalwart chairman of the appropriations committee. The returns left the result of the battle between Representative Beck, former solicitor general, and his Democratic opponent in doubt with the possibility that an off-

BY STANLEY W. PRENOSIL
(Associated Press Financial Editor)

New York, Nov. 7.—(P)—The biggest "bull" session in history today signaled the beginning of what will hereafter be known as the "Hoover market" in Wall Street.

An avalanche of buying orders, almost as impressive as the landslide of votes which carried the Republican national ticket to victory in yesterday's election, lifted scores of stocks $1 to $15.50 a share. Some of the gains were cut down and a few representative issues, such as General Motors and U. S. Steel common closed fractionally lower, but final quotations generally were around the highest of the day.

Total sales of 4,891,200 shares have been exceeded only by the record-breaking session of June 12 when 5,193,600 shares changed hands in a declining market.

The market bounded upward from the opening gong. Curtiss Aeroplane, one of the first stocks to appear on the tape, opened with a gain of $10 a share. There came blocks of 5,000 to 20,000 shares, a wide assortment of oil shares, fifteen of which established new records for the year during Detroit, Nov. 7.—(P)—A desperate effort to "keep dad from losing the farm," near Hayes, Kan., resulted in failure for Benny Miller this afternoon when an attempt to hold up a teller in a downtown branch of a bank came to grief.

Young Miller entered the bank and walked to the window of Frank McFarlane, of Windsor. He pushed a note through the wicket and displayed a pistol. McFarlane, without hesitating, dropped to the floor and shouted "holdup," crawling from his

BY WALTER CHAMBLIN
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

New York, Nov. 7.—(P)—Alfred E. Smith has declared his stormy and tempestuous political career at an end—just short of its highest goal. He announced he had fought his last political battle and that from now on "as a high private in the ranks of American citizens" he would be a spectator from the sidelines.

"I certainly do not expect ever to run for public office again," he said. "I have had all I can stand of it. I have given a quarter of a century of probably the best years of my life to it. I will never lose my interest in public affairs—that is a sure thing," he said at his suite at the Biltmore hotel during the afternoon in reply to a question by one of the correspondents.

"You have no regrets of any kind over this campaign, have you?" was the next question asked. "None at all," he answered. "I have nothing but pleasant memories of it. There is one thing that the figures indicate, and that is that no man in the country except one got more votes for the presidency than I did."

Curtis Tired But Pleased With His Party's Victory

Aboard Curtis Train, Deshler, Ohio, Nov. 7.—(P)—Traveling an ordinary passenger car with a minimum of ostentation, Vice President Charles Curtis tonight was well on his way back to Washington drawing near the finish of the tour that led him 21,000 miles in his victorious campaign.

Manifestly worn by the strenuous months of traveling, the Kansas senator remained in the closest seclusion in his drawing room all day, retiring immediately after luncheon for an afternoon's rest. Only at Walkerton, Indiana, where a party of Republican leaders from South Bend had stood in a driving rain to shake his hand, did the veteran Republican senator venture from his room.

Despite his utter fatigue, Senator Curtis was happy over the results of the election and appeared to be jubilant over the Republican congressional invasions in Virginia and border states as reported to him from time to time. He seemed particularly pleased at the early returns from Clay county, Iowa, indicating the Hoover-Curtis ticket had carried it by 2 to 1. It was here that senator was heckled in a campaign speech on Republican taxation policies.

The senator he had made no decision as to his resignation from the senate and those close to him felt that he considered it his duty as majority leader to remain in the senate through the short session.

21,000 Votes

Boston, Nov. 7.—(P)—Alfred E. Smith in Massachusetts tonight stood at 21,000 with only a few precincts missing from the state's total of 1605.

Smith's total vote was 781,744. That of Hoover was 760,671. The Democratic nominee was given a big majority over Hoover in the city of Boston, polling 192,257 votes against 94,527 for Hoover with the city count complete. Smith also ran ahead of Hoover in most of the cities of the state, winning the textile centers and a number of other industrial towns. Hoover received slight pluralities in Worcester and Springfield.

Although Hoover was given good margins in the rural sections of the state, it was Smith's great strength in the cities that cut down the Republican candidate's lead. Virtually all the cities carried by Smith are normally Republican strongholds as Lowell, Pittsfield, New Bedford and even Northampton, President Coolidge's home city. A great increase to Next Congress

Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 7.—(P)—Together with having turned from its normally Democratic stand to give its 12 electoral votes to Herbert Hoover, North Carolina appeared likely on the basis of returns tonight to have one or more Republican representatives in congress for the first time in sixteen years.

With rural precincts dribbling in throughout the day, the lead of the Republican presidential candidate over Governor Smith was slightly more than 10,000 with 1,365 out of 1,735 precincts reported. The majority of the missing precincts in the western part of the state, however, are normally Republican.

The congressional races in four districts were close with one Republican in the lead over the Democratic incumbent and Democrats in the other districts having only slight leads.

EXPRESSES GRATITUDE FOR HIS VICTORY

BY W. B. RAGSDALE
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Hoover Home, Stanford University Campus, Cal., Nov. 7.—(P)—Looking upon Republican victory as a vindication of great issues and a determination of the true road of progress, Herbert Hoover in his first message to the American people as president-elect late today asked for a co-operation and unity of spirit of all leaders of opinion and of action for the common service of the country.

"I can make no adequate expression of gratitude for the overwhelming confidence of our people who without regard to section or interest have selected me for president of the whole United States," he said.

"There has been a vindication of great issues and a determination of the true road of progress. The Republican party has again been assessed with a great responsibility. In this great hour there can be for me no feeling of victory or exultation. Rather, it imposes a sense of solemn responsibility of the future and of complete dependence upon Divine guidance for the task which the greatest office in the world imposes.

"That task is to give the best within me to interpret the common sense and the ideals of the American people. I can only succeed in my part by the co-operation and unity of spirit of all leaders of opinion and of action for the common service of our country."

Detroit, Nov. 7.—(P)—An attempt to carry her two younger sisters from a burning house cost the life of five-year-old Betsie Ruelas, here today. The girl was so badly burned that she died in a hospital a few hours later. The younger sisters were saved by firemen.

The father and mother of the children were not at home when the fire, believed to have been caused by an overheated stove, started. The girl tried to carry her sisters from the second floor to the street, but found escape cut off by the flames. When firemen made their way to the apartment they found the younger children unconscious from smoke, and Betsie screaming with the agony of her burns. Detroit, Nov. 7.—(P)—The sweep of votes which transported this state's fifteen electoral votes into the Hoover column and gave successful state candidates unprecedented majorities was revealed today as the most tremendous Republican triumph in Michigan history.

Records fell before the ballot laden Hoover-Green advance in the face of a Democratic campaign unequalled in many years for enthusiasm every county went Republican.

United States Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg and Governor Fred W. Green were given the most smashing Republican majorities ever recorded for state officers. They were hovering at the half million majority mark

Roosevelt Leading in New York Race

New York, Nov. 7.—(P)—Leaders of the empire state Democracy found some small consolation today when it became evident that they had elected their candidates for governor, U. S. senator, lieutenant governor, and comptroller, although Governor Smith, presidential nominee of the party, lost the state's 45 electoral votes to Herbert Hoover by approximately 100,000 votes.

With only 100 up-state election district unreported, the presidential vote was: Hoover 2,162,594; Smith 2,072,818; Hoover's actual plurality on returns at hand, 89,776.

For governor, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democrat, had polled 2,905,522 votes to 2,054,347 given to Albert Ottinger, Republican, with 150 up-state and two New York city districts unreported.

Royal S. Copeland, Democrat, seeking reelection to the United States senate, had received 2,004,295 votes as compared with 1,909,803 for Alanson B. Houghton, Republican, with three New York and 428 up-state districts unreported.

Closing tabulations of Tuesday's election have continued to reinforce the tremendous popular vote by which Herbert Hoover and Charles Curtis have amassed majorities in states having 444 electoral units and left Alfred E. Smith and Joe T. Robinson leading in others having only 87.

The late returns have served only to emphasize the immensity of the Republican sweep that embraced the entire West and most of the East and also extended into four traditionally Democratic states of the south—Virginia, North Carolina, Florida and Texas.

With less than a scattered quarter of the nation's precincts remaining uncounted, the Hoover majorities have rolled up in 40 states. Smith held the lead in eight others, six of them in the south and two in the East, Massachusetts and Rhode Island. Only Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina, Mississippi, Arkansas and Louisiana, in Dixie remained definitely under the Democratic banner.

(BULLETIN)
Mercedes, Texas, Nov. 7.—(P)—Captain Frank Hamer and three of his Texas Rangers tonight seized a ballot box at one of the precincts here and took it to Edinburg, where they locked it in the county courthouse for the night.

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 7.—(P)—Rolling up an ever-increasing majority Herbert Hoover late today had a 17,660 vote lead over Gov. Alfred E. Smith in Texas and the slow returns indicated the lone star state might be carried into the Republican column in its presidential choice, the state continued overwhelmingly Democratic on other offices, assuring the re-election of Gov. Dan Moody by a massive majority over his Republican opponent, W. H. Holmes; electing Tom Connally as U. S. senator over T. M. Kennerly and choosing 17 Democratic representatives in the 18 districts involved.

Hoover's early lead, resulting from heavy majorities in the large centers, continued its snowball increase as the rural vote piled in. Democratic leaders had expected the rural vote to overcome the Republican nominee's city vote, but their expectations were not fulfilled in many instances. Where 243 of the 253 counties had reported, 62 of them complete, Hoover's lead jumped to 17,660, his vote totaling 295,653 to 277,993 for Gov. Smith.

Moody Blames Raskob
Jubilant anti-Smith Democrat leaders as an aftermath of the election demanded reorganization of the Democratic party in Texas, and the resignation of W. D. Wilcox, chairman of the state executive committee, whom they characterized as the "Tammany leader." Former Gov. O. B. Colquitt said that he also favored a "reckoning" with Gov. Moody, who urged Democrats to support the party nominee, and Senator Morris Sheppard, author of the 18th amendment, who backed Gov. Smith.

Gov. Moody declared in a statement that the south was "still solidly Democratic at heart" and he blamed John H. Raskob's conduct of the national campaign for the loss of many Democratic votes in the presidential contest.

Kenosha, Wis., Nov. 7.—(P)—The 20th bomb, one of the most powerful of a series which has exploded since the beginning of the labor troubles at the Allen A. Knitting Mills plant, tonight damaged the home of an employee of the mill.

The bombing was at the home of John Kuchara. Mary Kuchara, 20, who is a topper at the mill, was not in the house at the time. Mr. and Mrs. Kuchara and two children, Ruth, 15, and John, Jr., 12, were shaken by the blast but not injured.

Republican Day in Over Fifty Years

Richmond, Va., Nov. 7.—(P)—Virginia, the home of Thomas Jefferson, the founder of the Democratic party, and for the past half-century one of the firmest supporters of that party of the "solid south" states, today spent its first day as a Republican state by watching a Republican congressional candidate add to the victory registered by Herbert Hoover.

The Hoover vote mounted slowly as returns came from the mountain precincts in the southwestern section of the state and his lead over Governor Smith stood more than 20,000 with returns from 1,548 out of 1,665 precincts. The vote was Hoover, 154,065; Smith 132,097.

James A. Garber, Republican, became the second of his party to win a seat in the state's delegation in the house today when Representative Thomas H. Harrison, Democrat, of the seventh district, conceded the election.

Menachus Lankford, Republican, defeated J. T. Deal, Democratic incumbent by a large majority on complete returns of the second district.

GUBERNATORIAL RACES UNIFORM

Small Number of Upsets in State Contests Reported

(By The Associated Press.)
Notwithstanding the Hoover sweep on Tuesday, there was a surprisingly small number of upsets in the gubernatorial races, and figures compiled on the basis of two-thirds of the vote show that Democratic gubernatorial candidates generally won out where they were expected to win and that Republican candidates did likewise.

Thirty-four state chief executives were chosen, a majority of whom were Republicans. Nevertheless, in such states as Utah and Montana, the Democrats were successful, while in New Jersey and Arizona the Republicans gained control of the governorship. In Arizona, unseating, on the basis of latest returns, the veteran George W. P. Hunt. The outcome was a Republican gain of three governors—in Arizona, New Jersey and Ohio.

MICHIGAN VOTE IS NEW RECORD

before the final ballots had been counted. Hoover was well past it.

The poll itself, swollen by the Democratic challenge and an answering enormous Republican turnout, set a new mark.

The final figure promised to be close to 1,400,000. 200,000 in excess of any previous balloting. Herbert Hoover hovered close to the record set by Calvin Coolidge four years ago in a comparatively tame campaign, when he won a majority in this state over Davis and LaFollette of 588,843.

Green Margin Large
Governor Green long since had printed past the record plurality for state candidates set by Alex J. Groesbeck in 1924 when he defeated Edward Frensdorff by 455,648 votes.

So thorough was the sweep of the Republican victory that it traveled in an unwavering line of party triumph from the reputed Democratic strongholds of the Upper Peninsula through the rare mid-state doubtful counties and into wet Wayne. Its progress was unimpeded by the counties claimed by William A. Comstock, Democratic candidate for governor, and his associates in the Michigan campaign for Governor Alfred E. Smith. Comstock's home county of Alpena went for Green and Hoover. Battle Creek rejected its favorite son candidate for United States senator—Mayor John W. Bailey—and tumbled aboard the Republican band wagon.

Hoover, Vandenberg and Green took an early lead of around two and one half to one over their Democratic opponents and maintained it through thick and thin. They ran behind this average in Wayne. Some spots in the Upper Peninsula and in occasional territory out-state also ran behind, but the heavier Republican counties made up the difference.

The Democrats were successful in only three small communities in the entire state. They carried Norway, an Upper Peninsula city which swung into the Democratic column for the first time, a Wayne county township containing 18 votes and the city of Hamtramck.

Other Officers Landslide
The contest waged the closest in Wayne, Alpena, Bay, Cheboygan, Dickinson, Delta, Macomb, Mason, Menominee and Monroe counties, but then in them the ratio for the Republican candidates ranged as high as two to one. In such counties as Allegan, Calhoun, Charlevoix, Hillsdale, Genesee, Emmet, Clinton, Ingham, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Kent, Marquette, Saginaw, Lenawee, Muskegon, Newaygo, Oakland, Berrien, Chippewa and Washtenaw, the Republican majorities ran from two and one half up to six to one in some precincts.

Several of these overwhelming counties were claimed by the Democrats in pre-election statements. Many had slipped in previous campaigns into the Democratic fold.

The state ticket, below lieutenant governor, paralleled the strength shown by the leaders. John S. Haggerty, secretary of state, Frank D. McKay, state treasurer, Wilbur M. Brucker, attorney general, O. B. Fuller, auditor general and justices Louis H. Peck, Walter H. North and William W. Potter won by overwhelming majorities. There was little variation in their ticket length. All coasted along

"Herbert Hoover," he shot back with a smile.

"Do you want to say anything about the results, governor?" his questioners pursued.

"A statement has been prepared which will be here in a few minutes," he answered.

It arrived shortly afterward and read:

"The American people have rendered their decision. I am a Democrat and I firmly believe in the rule of the majority.

"I have had a long career in elective public office. Yesterday was the twenty-first time that my name has appeared on the ballot in New York state. I am happy and content, taking my place as a high private in the ranks of American citizens.

"I have a heart full of gratitude to all the people who worked so untiringly to promote my candidacy and to all those who cast their ballots for me."

Is Going to Work
In this way he wound up his unsuccessful drive for the presidency as the standard bearer of the Democratic party, and his statement that from now on he was through marked the end of a political career unique in many respects in American politics.

Now that it is over, he said he had no plans for the future after retiring as governor at the end of the year except that "I am going to work."

Tomorrow he expects to leave for Albany and then take a brief rest before winding up his duties as New York's chief executive.

List Votes
Three proposed amendments to the state constitution, providing increased pay for members of the state legislatures, excess condemnation for city streets and a legislative boundary line clause were running ahead with more than half the precincts heard from.

The vote for Hoover, with 2,569 of the state's 3,184 precincts reported, was 907,379 against 366,987 for Governor Smith.

Senator Vandenberg, with 2,643 precincts in, had 827,612 against 330,961 for Bailey for the long term and in 2,436 precincts 797,758 against Bailey's 312,351 for the short term.

The vote for Governor Green, in 2,781 precincts, was 876,268 against 371,350 for Comstock.

Loren D. Dickinson, lieutenant governor, filed up 627,075 in 2,298 precincts, while Frank J. Sawyer, his Democratic opponent, totaled 293,652.

REPUBLICANS GAIN VOTES IN CONGRESS

cial check will be necessary to determine the victor.

Smith's Successor Picked
All of the eleven Republican senators seeking re-election were elected or were expected to be in the lead. They were Reed of Pennsylvania, Johnson of California,

Green of Vermont, LaFollette of Wisconsin, Vandenberg of Michigan, Fess of Ohio, Robinson of Indiana, Frazier of North Dakota, Cutting of New Mexico and Thomas of Idaho, who were re-elected, and Howell of Nebraska, who was well ahead of his Democratic opponent.

Two Republican candidates were elected to fill Republican seats—Frederic C. Walcott to the seat of Senator McLean, re-elected, and Otis F. Glenn to the seat of Frank L. Smith who resigned after the senate oath was denied him.

On the Democratic side the election returned to office Walsh of Massachusetts, Swanson of Virginia, Stephens of Mississippi, McKellar of Tennessee, King of Utah, Pittman of Nevada, Wheeler of Montana and Cope-land of New York, but overturned Bayard of Delaware, Bruce of Maryland, Gerry of Rhode Island, Edwards of New Jersey and Kendrick of Wyoming.

Trammell of Florida and Ashurst of Arizona appeared to have a safe edge on their Republican opponents. Earl of Washington was out in the lead but Neely of West Virginia was running slightly behind.

Three Women Elected
The Democratic seats of Senator Reed of Missouri and Locher of Ohio went to Republicans, the latter to be filled by the veteran senate and house member, Theodore E. Burton.

Senator Shipstead of Minnesota, the lone Farmer-Labor member, was re-elected.

All the Republican house leaders were re-elected including Tilson of Connecticut, Snell of New York and Wood of Indiana. Wood is slated for the championship of the house appropriations committee.

The house also increased its feminine membership by three. The present women members, Mrs. Kahn of California, Mrs. Rogers of Massachusetts, and Mrs. Langley of Kentucky, Republicans, and Mrs. Norton of New Jersey, were given companions in Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick of Illinois, Mrs. Ruth Pratt of New York, Republicans and Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen of Florida, a Democrat.

STAFFORD WINS
Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 7.—(AP)—Unofficial returns for the fifth Wisconsin congressional district, tonight showed Congressman Victor L. Berger, the last Milwaukee Socialist to occupy a major elective office with the exception of Mayor D. W. Hoan, has been defeated by William H. Stafford by a margin which probably will exceed 500 votes.

Except for the missing precinct, the final unofficial tabulation was:

Stafford (R) 41,570; Berger (S) 40,834; O'Malley (D) 23,528.

SMITH LEADING IN BAY STATE

In all these cities was held to be largely responsible for the Democratic candidate's success.

Senator David L. Walsh, Democrat, swept to victory over B. Lorin Young with a plurality of 12,000. Walsh polled 803,621 votes, 22,000 ahead of Smith.

Lieut. Gov. Frank G. Allen, Republican, won a close victory over General Charles H. Cole with a vote of 753,717 to 735,507. A lead in Boston of 88,000 was not sufficient to overcome the vote rolled up by Allen who carried a number of cities in which Smith and Walsh led.

Toral Jurors in Court With Guns; Were Threatened

San Angel, Mexico, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Some of the jurors in the Toral wore pistols today. Threats had been made against their lives of the assassin of President-elect Obregon was acquitted.

The session of the court was devoted this morning to reading the voluminous records of previous testimony.

The attorney for the defense, Senor Sodi, declared an appeal would be made immediately to the supreme court if Toral, charged with the assassination, and Mother Concepcion, charged with complicity, were convicted.

Honor Given After 26 Years
After 26 years, Prof. A. W. Bickerson, pioneer of the theory modern research is beginning to give support, has been honored by New Zealand University, which dismissed him because his views were unsound. Recently Professor Bickerson, now an old man, living in London, received a telegram saying the university had recognized its mistake, and it had given him the title of Professor Emeritus of his former college which had dismissed him so unceremoniously.

Result of Delta Vote for Hoover and Smith Still Undecided Today

Whether Herbert Hoover, Republican presidential candidate, defeated Alfred E. Smith, Democrat, in Delta county in Tuesday's election is now very much undecided as a result of a re-check of the returns received at the county clerk's office yesterday. The Delta county canvassing board will convene today to canvass the vote, but it is not likely it will complete its work for two or three days.

Gov. Fred W. Green was given a majority of 1301 over William A. Comstock, Democrat, in Delta county. The vote was: Green, 6043; Comstock, 4742.

Quite a Scramble. Unofficial returns compiled early Wednesday morning indicated that Hoover carried Delta county by 76 votes. Errors and discrepancies discovered later reduced this figure materially and perhaps wiped it out altogether. It all depends upon the basis chosen for the compilation.

If the tabulation is that of the presidential electors who received the highest number of votes, it appeared that Hoover carried the county by eight. If the table is that of the electors who received the lowest number of votes, Smith apparently wins the county by ten.

This variance is due to the fact that a considerable number of voters did not vote for all 15 of the nominees for the electoral college on their party tickets. It is possible that the canvassing board will find that Delta county's preference for presidential electors will be split between the two major parties.

The vote in Bark River No. 1 precinct is given as an example of how the vote for the presidential electors varied. The 15 Republican electors received votes as follows: Sleeper 153; Jayne 151; Varnum 151; Root 151; Bradley 151; Leland 151; Russell 151; Colman 151; Woodworth 152; Pulver 151; Read 152; Brower 151; Gustin 151; Elsie 151, and Fisher 151.

The vote for the 15 Democratic electors varied as follows: Kaltendrun 84; Hoban 84; Hyatt 84; Dansard 84; Schmermerhorn 84; Rudolph 84; Taylor 84; Miller 84; Crocker 83; Vought 84; Smurthwaite 83; Ryan 84; Krauth 84; Hillyer 84, and Lennane 84. If the vote for president is computed by the lowest vote received, the result in this precinct would be: Hoover 151; Smith 83; if the highest, Hoover 153; Smith 84.

Totals Not Compiled. The total vote that each elector received in the county has not been compiled, and this will not be known until the canvassing board convenes. It might turn out that the elector vote will be split between the two parties in the county. This is not unusual, for back in 1892 Michigan elected nine Republican electors and five Democrats.

Seven rural precincts had not made the official return to the county clerk's office yesterday.

Over 500 Miles of Concrete Highways in a Single County!

Wayne county, Michigan, (Detroit) has over 500 miles of concrete highways, with pavements from eighteen to eighty feet wide.

Nineteen years ago, this county built its first stretch of concrete road. Year after year, the Board of County Road Commissioners has continued building concrete highways, to complete a road system planned in 1906.

Many of the older pavements have been widened. Some have been torn up to make way for wider pavements at a different grade—but no concrete pavement has worn out!

No wonder Wayne County keeps on building concrete roads!

WHAT OF THE FUTURE?

FOR THE THIRD consecutive time, in a presidential election, the Democratic party has been buried under a landslide of Republican votes. Warren G. Harding in 1920, Calvin Coolidge in 1924 and Herbert Hoover in 1928 were elected by overwhelming majorities over their Democratic opponents.

The campaign just closed saw unprecedented activity and effort on the part of the Democratic managers. Nothing was left undone which might have helped the chances of Gov. Smith. But the normal Republican sentiment in the country was too strong, and the unrest and conflicts in the ranks of the Democrats themselves too sharply defined, to make a victory for the New York governor possible.

That Gov. Smith was the strongest man in the Democratic party no one will deny. It is doubtful whether any other Democrat could have done as well.

The answer appears to be that the next four years will bring new and perhaps radically different party alignments. The Democratic party, as it is now constituted, can not hope to rebuild its fortunes to the strength it enjoyed under the leadership of Cleveland, Bryan and Wilson.

The third landslide in as many elections proves conclusively that the Republican party, on its record and achievements, has sold itself thoroughly to the people of the United States; and that there must be some unprecedented changes in the appeal of its opponents if Republican domination is to be seriously menaced in this country.

At Iowa, Kan., a rolling pin throwing contest was listed on the program for Armistice Day. Now that's funny!

AN ENGLISH TRAFFIC CASE.

ENGLAND has always been noted for the speed and severity with which its courts deal with crime. Listen, now, to the way in which an English judge recently handled a traffic case.

A motorist was arrested for driving while intoxicated. It developed that he had been on the same charge before. The judge, thereupon, fined him fifty pounds—about $250—and suspended his driving license for life.

British traffic is not so heavy as ours, but this British judge, trained in courts that have the protection of the public as their primary aim, had no hesitation about depriving the prisoner of the right ever to drive a car again as long as he lives. Isn't there a little object lesson there for some of our own traffic courts?

A physician says hundreds of women are having their little toes removed that they may wear smaller shoes. Seems like carrying things to extremes.

TWO MINUTES OF SILENCE.

THERE is to be a novel feature this year in the celebration of Armistice day. The League of Remembrance has planned a belt of silence circling the world.

Invitations have been sent out to the "heads of all countries within the latitudes of 30 degrees and 45 degrees"—which takes in most of the civilized nations, yet seems a needless limitation. These countries are asked to suspend all traffic and business activity for two minutes, starting at 11 a. m., on Nov. 11, the time when the Armistice agreement was signed and the fighting ended. Thus there will be, hour by hour for 24 hours, a process of reverential and prayerful pauses reaching around the earth.

It is a noble suggestion, deserving universal observance. It will be good for the people of belligerent nations, and all others, to be silent and thoughtful for two minutes, and there will be no rule against continuing the silence and thoughtfulness longer than that.—Green Bay Press Gazette.

GRAFT CHALLENGES.

IN LOS ANGELES the district attorney has been indicted by a special grand jury on charges of accepting money to "ease up" on the prosecution of wealthy swindlers. In Cleveland the entire election board has been fired for permitting gross vote frauds. In Philadelphia a third of the high police officers have been dismissed for graft. In Chicago new revelations come every day of thuggery and chicanery at last spring's primary election.

Thus does the American democracy continue to demonstrate, day by day, that some kind of drastic medicine is needed pretty badly.

An isolated case of crookedness in public office is easy to understand. Nothing ever will prevent some lone public servant, now and then, from yielding to temptation. But at present we have no isolated cases. We have something that looks very much like an epidemic.

Our first impulse, naturally, is to look for new laws. We must provide extra safeguards at the polls. We must get a better system of checks and balances that will make it harder for district attorneys and policemen to graft. We must do this, that and the other thing, so that we can make a fool-proof system that will let our consciences rest.

Unfortunately, however, reliance on new laws won't do us a particle of good. We have relied on them altogether too much in recent years. That is one reason for the present mess.

We get fine uprisings of civic responsibility every so often; and when we get them we insist on jamming through a new law to remedy matters. This done, we settle back and forget the whole matter, confident that everything will be rosy.

But everything isn't. When respectability goes to sleep, respectability gets busy. And one of the best things American respectability does is sleep.

Why can't we open our eyes and face the truth? Why can't we recognize the fact that as long as we refuse to bother ourselves with our civic and political responsibilities we shall have disgraced attorneys indicted, election boards fired and police officers dismissed for grafting? Why can't we understand that our lethargy disdains to take an active, energetic interest in governmental affairs provides the best possible breeding ground for crookedness?

The machinery of our city, state and national governments is all right. We don't need to tinker with it any more. We have nothing and no one to blame for the present scandals except ourselves.

No dishonest man could ever slip into public office, or last a day after he got there. If the honest citizens didn't permit it.

The theory of the modern apartment house seems to be that children should be seen and not had.

If you think women can't take a joke you ought to see some of their husbands.

CHAPTER IV

It was the novelty of the noises she heard and not their volume that awakened Jerry that first morning in "camp." The racket sounded for all the world like a chorus of cats having a concert in the trees.

"Catbirds," Myrtle said when she opened her eyes and saw Jerry sitting up in her cot, listening to the symphony of the strange sounds. "You'll get used to them."

"My first chance to sleep late on a Monday morning," Jerry wailed. "An elevator train would not have bothered me that much."

"Well, you should worry," Myrtle grinned. "It's a wonder you could sleep at all with Alester Carstairs on your mind."

Jerry turned to her with an eager light breaking over her countenance. "Isn't he wonderful?" she cried enthusiastically. "I never thought I'd meet anyone like him."

"Yeah, God's gift to the shop-girls," Myrtle answered with a short laugh. Then, suddenly serious, "Better watch your step kiddo. The boy seems to like your company."

Jerry threw the camp blankets back with quick impatience. "Let's get something to eat," she said, reaching for her shoes and stockings.

"You'll have a tough time if you're always so overcome with his nobs' glory that you can't eat in his presence," Myrtle teased her. "That was some swell supper you passed up last night. I wish I knew what the salad was."

"I think it was alligator pear," Jerry replied, desiring to keep Myrtle off the subject of Alester Carstairs. She wasn't going to like being teased about him in connection with her avowed ambition to marry money. She told herself, Myrtle had a way of making it look cheap, while really, if you considered it sensibly, "Well, anyway, I'm glad you made a hit with him," Myrtle broke in on her thoughts. "I'll have a swell camping outfit next year with the money he's giving me for the damage his plane did, and we've got a stove that works so we can have a hot breakfast."

She paused and looked around the room. "Fixed this place up great, didn't he? Just like rubbing a magic lantern. 'Marsh do this and Marsh do that!' Pres-to. But you know," she added confidentially, "I think the other chap would wear better."

Jerry stood still and looked at her unsmilingly. "That's the trouble with most girls like us," she said quietly. "We're suffering from inferiority. As a class I mean. But to me a man's a man. I can't see any reason for being less afraid of a poor man than a rich one."

"Oh, go hire a soap box," Myrtle retorted good naturedly. "But don't think you can kid yourself. If you think there's any chance of your marrying Alester Carstairs, you're cuckoo."

Jerry flushed darkly. "I wouldn't want to marry Alester Carstairs without knowing him better," she said sharply. "But you don't need to be warning me about him. I've known some boys with half of next week's pay spent in advance who weren't anything to go around with blindfolded. The reason some people stop right where they were born is because they think everyone who has money is the villain in the piece. And it's a sure thing you'll never interest a man by showing him you think he's better than you are."

"That isn't it at all, Jerry," Myrtle came back earnestly. "This guy doesn't speak your language. 'You might as well be living on different worlds. I was born here. I know. If you were a chorus girl now, I'd be a chorus girl now.'"

"What's the use of our arguing it?" Jerry interrupted. "Whatever happens will be between Alester and me."

"All right, but there isn't going to be anything between me and breakfast but just time to wash my face," Myrtle agreed hungrily.

Jerry said nothing more and in a few minutes they were trying out the new oil stove and finding it satisfactory. After a hearty breakfast they set about cleaning up the living room and arranging the porch furniture.

Myrtle noticed that Jerry frequently cast her eyes in the direction of the highway and assumed that she was thinking of Alester. As a matter of fact she was thinking of Dan Harvey. The men who were to repair the plane hadn't come and Jerry was wondering if he would be with them when they did arrive.

She was impatient with herself because she had entered her thoughts. He had no place there. What could he mean to her? He wasn't half so pleasant as his employer. She couldn't, however, forget the sensation she had known when she came to consciousness in his arms. It had been, for a brief moment agreeable.

An hour passed. She told Myrtle that her head was aching and her friend suggested a swim. The sun was high now and the buzz of countless insects was vocal proof that the day was running a temperature.

Jerry seemed reluctant to leave the house, but she gave in after a little coaxing because she did not want Myrtle to guess what was on her mind. And while they were in the water the man came to repair the plane. The girls saw their car enter the grounds but they could not recognize any of the occupants.

He came in a black roadster with yellow leather upholstery and much gleaming nickel. Jerry thrilled when she climbed into it and Myrtle stood by, unable to still a slight pang of envy. It had never crossed her mind to wish she had fallen in love with anyone other than George, but she realized now that Jerry certainly was getting the break she had wanted.

"How's the head?" Alester asked when they were under way. "Much better, thank you," she said it rather listlessly. "He turned to look at her. 'Sleep well?'"

She nodded without looking at him. He jerked his head around to sight the road ahead, then turned back to her. Jerry let him look with her eyes straight ahead. She wondered at herself. In her plans this opportunity with the "right man" had found her sparkling, vivacious, alluring. But now she didn't feel

COMING HOME.

I can't quite tell him, strange to say,
How much it means at close of day
To hear a husband's step once more,
To catch the opening of the door,
And note its closing, knowing then
That here we are, both home again.
The only place, as evening nears,
We've ever wanted all these years.

I can't quite tell him, maybe he
Has feelings he can't quite tell me—
How much it means to turn his feet
Around one corner, up one street,
And know his eyes shall see a light,
Not now, not then, but every night—
True to his trust, will see it shine
And know that I am true to mine.

I can't quite tell him, strange to say,
But thought upon my wedding day
That nothing I might ever miss
Could be as vital as just this:
That I should be there when he came,
I think perhaps he thought the same;
That nothing else, no task, no sum,
Could be as vital as to come.

Victims of Three Accidents Treated at Hospital Here

Erick Antonen, 43, employed near Rock at a lumber camp, was injured Monday afternoon while skidding logs. A large log struck his left leg at the ankle, fracturing the bone. He was rushed to St. Francis where the bone was set and he is resting easily although the injury causes much pain.

Chester Kinnart, 22, whose home is at Perkins, was injured last Thursday while working in the woods near Mashke on the E. & L. S. Ry. branch. He was employed by A. J. Dechambeau and was skidding pulp wood when a large stick of wood struck in the left side. He was laid up at the camp for several days and Tuesday evening came to this city for treatment at St. Francis hospital. He is doing nicely and will be out in a few days.

Viola Sutton, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sutton of Plat Rock, was admitted to St. Francis hospital Monday after sustaining a fractured leg when she fell from a trailer at the farm home of her parents. Members of the family were assisting Mr. Sutton gathering potatoes in the field which were loaded on a trailer. Viola was riding home on the load when she fell, the trailer passing over her right leg, fracturing it below the knee. The girl was resting easily late yesterday.

Students to Get Practical Training in Poultry Culture

Escanaba high school students, taking the animal husbandry course, will be given practical training in poultry culture this winter and next spring, Hugo Swanson, instructor, said yesterday.

A chicken coop, 6 by 8 feet, is now being erected near the school by members of the class and will be completed next week. It will be provided with 12 trap-nests. N. E. Paulsen, well known Escanaba poultryman, whose flock of hens won seventh place in the international egg laying contest which recently closed at Michigan State College, has agreed to furnish ten high grade hens for the project.

According to the plan, the students will make daily trips to the chicken coop to release the layers from the trap-nests and to feed them. An egg laying contest will be conducted under standard rules, and in the spring some of the eggs will be set for the hatching of chicks.

London's largest public market, which cost $10,000,000 is to be formally opened by the King and Queen.

over her right leg, fracturing it below the knee. The girl was resting easily late yesterday.

Snapshot Contest Is Being Held in High School Here

This is Snapshot Week at the Escanaba high school. Students are out with their cameras taking interesting photographs for the 1929 Escanaba, the annual student publication.

A snapshot contest is now in progress and will close on Dec. 1 when two prizes will be awarded to the students submitting the best individual picture and the best group of three or more pictures. Two season tickets for the coming season are offered as prizes.

Hugo Swanson, faculty adviser of the annual staff, said yesterday that subscription campaign would start next month. The contract for the engravings to be used in the 1929 Escanaba was let to the Buckbee-Mear Engraving Co. of St. Paul.

Russian Industries Enter Slack Season

Moscow ((P))—The industrial production of Soviet Russia has been steadily slowing down during the last two months, just when manufactured articles were most needed to induce the peasants to part with their stores of grain.

The preparation of flax from which strong warm underwear for the peasants is largely made dropped 70 per cent in July, according to Pravda, while the turnover of all textiles fell 25 per cent.

Moreover, discipline among the workers is on the decline, this newspaper declared, attributing this to difficulties experienced in the distributing of bread in certain industrial centers.

OBITUARY

HENRY PAULSEN.

Pending the arrival of relatives from the east no definite funeral arrangements have been made for the funeral of Henry Paulsen, of Trenary, whose death occurred early Monday morning following injuries sustained when he was kicked by a horse at his home Sunday morning.

MRS. CHARLOTTA LAMBERT.

The Swedish Baptist church was filled to the doors Wednesday afternoon when funeral services were held for Mrs. Charlotta Lambert, charter member of the congregation. Rev. John Hugo officiated at the services and chose as his text the favorite words of the deceased "God Is My All." The room where the body lay at the home of her son Carl Lambert, 306 No. 16th St., was banked with beautiful flowers testifying the esteem in which Mrs. Lambert was held by a host of friends.

The pallbearers were six grandsons and six nephews, Clarence, Roy and Rudolf Lambert, Rusev and Carl Bowers and Algon Olson.

Out of town relatives included Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Waters, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Emil Lambert, Muskegon, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hawkinson, Schaffer, Mrs. Charlotte Larson, Ishpeming.

The name of Mrs. Lambert's brother, August Blomquist of this city, was omitted in the list of survivors. Burial was in Lakeview cemetery in the family lot where her husband was buried several years ago.

Moscow Boasts Few Private Motor Cars

Moscow ((P))—The crowded capital of the reds has fewer automobiles than any large city in Europe, yet it is one of the most terrifying places in the world for pedestrians of whom there are 2,225,000 in Moscow.

There is little street traffic, but apparently no laws regulate what little there is. The trains rumble at moderate speed. So, perforce, do the dilapidated and far from immaculate little hacks, hauled up and down the cobble-stone hills by scrawny nags. But the automobiles go like demons, their speed limited only by the poor condition of most of the pavements.

The dashing men who steer the Moscow busses are perhaps the only drivers in Europe who breeze through the streets at a faster clip than the Paris taxicab chauffeurs, whose zest and nonchalance is celebrated. Brown and unwashed, the Moscow busses tear up and down the cobble-stones, bouncing and honking at full tilt, with pedestrians scattering in front of them and taking to the street again in their wake.

Busses do not come along very frequently, but when they do they come quickly and they get you somewhere in a hurry. The fare varies with the distance, five cents for every mile and a half or so. Trams are slightly cheaper and considerably slower.

Factories for the manufacture of unbreakable glass, the invention of an Austrian, are to be built at Liverpool, England.

Soldiers on leave, even when not wearing their uniforms, are to be given reduced rates on railways of the Irish Free State.

National Figure To Be Speaker at 1-Day Institute

Frederick M. Snyder, New York, nationally and internationally known newspaper man, will be one of the speakers at the one-day teachers institute to be held at Manistique Nov. 13. Here's 1 Candidate Who Did His Duty

Even though east side election boards at Manistique complained of a lack of generosity on the part of party leaders in failing to supply the customary refreshments while votes were being taken and counted, the west side polling place officials were more fortunate.

Frank Gierke, who always takes care of his second precinct in the matter of refreshments, was not forgetful of his duty in Tuesday's election. He brought an ample supply of fruit to the second precinct polling place, and then to make sure no one was slighted, stepped over across to his fellow-Democrat's home ward, the first, and dished out the apples there also.

Commenting on the plait of the east side boards as recounted in these columns yesterday, Mr. Gierke declared that he would have included the two east side precincts in his itinerary if he had known of the down town candidates delinquency. Mr. Gierke was a candidate for county treasurer on the Democratic ticket.

Winning Workers Stage Celebration

Republican nominees on national, state and county tickets carried Schoolcraft county about 19 to 7 over their Democratic opponents Tuesday.

Seul Choix, Mueller No. 2, was the only precinct to express a strong Democratic preference, with one lone Republican vote on the national ticket. "We should have asked that guy to leave and made it unanimous," one Seul Choix party leader remarked.

Supporters of the G. O. P. ticket at Manistique staged a noisy miniature street parade and general celebration Tuesday morning.

Midnight Wednesday morning, when returns showed the Republican landslide. This community has been known as a party stronghold.

Manistique City Vote 91 Percent of Registration

A 91 per cent vote was recorded in the city of Manistique at the general election Tuesday.

Of the total 1,950 voters registered, 1,775 exercised their right at the polls. There appeared to be little confusion over the manner of voting, and the number of spoiled ballots was insignificant.

The total county vote was between 2,700 and 2,800.

VAUDEVILLE AT GERO

An international song and dance program which abounds in comedy and novelty tops the bill at the Gero Theatre today along with "Aflame in the Sky," thrilling aviation picture.

The stage attraction is the "Rose Revue", a cleverly concocted blend of whirlwind steps, with a Russian winter frolic as one of the outstanding scenes. Elaborately costumed the offering is also prettily mounted, with attractive vocal numbers.

The screen feature, daring and different, brings into play the romance of a young airman and his pal, who with the aid of their plane and ready machine gun, rescue the heroine in an entirely up-to-date manner.

Jack Luden is the good-looking "ace" and Sharon Lynn appears to be sufficient incentive for any number of rescues. Robert McKim has an important role and the others members of the cast, including William Humphreys, Bill Scott and Charles A. Stevenson, provide efficient support.

INTOXICATED DRIVER IS GIVEN PAROLE

Henry Bovin, arraigned in justice court on charges of driving while intoxicated, was ordered to pay costs of $8.50 and to accept parole to Officer Torval Kalerson for ninety days.

Bovin was given the choice of a sixty day jail term or of the costs and parole.

AT THE RIALTO

What's the first thing a man would notice on returning to civilization after a absence of four years?

John Gilbert supplies the answer in his new starring picture, "Four Walls," which now showing at the Rialto theatre. Gilbert plays the role of an ex-convict who returns to the East Side of New York after four years in Sing Sing.

On the day he is released, he hurries directly to his home in the Ghetto where his mother (Vera Gordon) and Bertha (Carmel Myers) are waiting for him. After greeting them Gilbert stands at the window of the apartment and looks down on the busy streets below him.

"Gee, Ma," says Gilbert, "skirts have gotten shorter and legs longer, haven't they?"

It is by such human touches as

SQUAD PREPARES FOR ESKY GAME

No Over-Confidence in Keil Camp—Hard Practice in Progress

Coach Eldon Keil is putting his Gladstone warriors through rigorous practice every night this week in preparation for the big Armistice Day game, the annual battle between Gladstone and Escanaba which will be played on the Gladstone field Monday afternoon.

The Keilmens came out of the Kingsford game with another of an unbroken string of victories, but there is no over-confidence in the Keil camp, the squad setting itself to a double task, that of defeating a strong eleven and of overcoming the jinx which has resulted in repeated Gladstone defeats at the hands of Escanaba.

The team this season is taking both counts into consideration and is calmly but earnestly preparing for its big battle on Monday.

All the Gladstone men are in good shape, Coach Keil said yesterday, with the exception of Fillmore who is still suffering from elbow injury. It is probable that Feldt, who showed up well in the Kingsford game, will take Fillmore's place in the lineup.

In regard to arrangements for the game, improvements on the field are in progress with the members of the classes in charge under the direction of the coach. Low spots are being filled in and considerable leveling is being done.

Members of the American Legion post, it was announced yesterday, have been assigned to guard the fence from persons unauthorized to enter and also to police the fences and grounds. The legion men will also build a fence on the south side of the field, ten feet back of the line.

The ticket campaign for the game will begin today.

CLUB ISSUES STATEMENT ON OLD JINX

The following announcement was issued Wednesday by C. C. Wilkes, in behalf of the Gladstone high school Pep club:

"After a very diligent and pains-taking search through the impenetrable forests between Gladstone and Escanaba, the Gladstone Pep squad finally found and captured the famous 'Bad Luck Jinx' that has for years visited Gladstone on the day the high school football team played Escanaba."

"This dangerous jinx is now in our hands awaiting the execution long since overdue, that will take place on the night of Monday, November 12."

"In order that all may enjoy sweet revenge, however, the jinx will be exhibited at the game Monday and at the high school at the pep session before the game."

Total stocks sales today 4,891,200 shares.

New York, Nov. 7.—(P)—Stock market traders greeted the new national administration with an orgy of buying today which taxed the capacity of the exchange almost to the limit, and piled up the largest total of shares ever recorded in a rising market. Transactions aggregated 4,891,200 shares. This figure was exceeded only on June 12, when sales crossed the 5,000,000 mark in a falling market.

Oils and coppers were purchased in enormous volume, and utilities were prominent in the advance. The buying of these shares was based on the belief that a number of developments, including mergers, have been held in abeyance until after election, and also upon the fact that they have not participated proportionately in the long upswing of the so-called "Coolidge market." About 15 oils and 10 coppers were bid up to new high prices for the year of longer, as well as a few merchandising issues and specialties. A wide assortment of stocks mounted 5 to 15 points and the Associated Press average of 20 industrials rose to a new high at 229.63 up about 6-10. The ticker ran for 43 minutes after the closing gong.

The "bullish" response to the overwhelming victory of Hoover was stimulated by a number of favorable monetary and industrial developments. Call money opened at 6 per cent for the first time in about a fortnight, and was available in the outside market during the day at substantial concessions from that rate. Time money was also easier.

A number of extra dividends and stock split-ups were announced during the day. Standard Oils of California and Nebraska declared extra dividends of 5 cents, and directors of National Sugar Refining proposed a 4-for-1 split up. A 5-for-1 split was rumored for Rio Grande Oil.

Kennecott led the coppers with a spurt of 12 points to a new peak price at 140. Anaconda, Calumet and Arizona, Chile, Granby, Cerro de Pasco, and Howe Sound climbed 3 to 4 points. In the oils, Texas Pacific Coal and Oil rose more than 4 points to nearly 25, more than double the yards low price, while Barnardell B. America, Mexican Seaboard, Pan American, Maryland, Sinclair, Shell Union, and Standards of California and New Jersey pushed up 1 to 3 points to new high prices. Montgomery Ward forged ahead 6 points, and First National and Kroger Stores sold up about 4 and 5 points to new tops.

In the utilities, Commonwealth Power and North American advanced more than 2 points to new tops, while Peoples Gas shot up nearly 6 points. Railway Shares were firmer, Texas and Pacific gaining 2 points.

Considerable realizing came in the market at various times. General Motors pushed ahead about 4 points, crossing its previous high, then cancelled all of its gain and suffered a fractional net loss in the closing transactions. Chrysler also sold up about 3 points, but closed nearly a point lower. Radio likewise made a good gain during the session, but fell more than 3 points before the close. U. S. Steel closed fractionally lower after displaying early firmness, and American Bank Note yielded 2 points to realizing.

The commodity markets were irregular. Corn improved on reports of more rain in the belt, while cotton was inclined to heaviness on bearish private crop estimates. Wheat eased as export demand remained light.

Foreign exchanges were quiet, Sterling sagging to $4.84 3-8, a new 1928 low.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Big world supplies of wheat, together with auspicious wheat crop prospects in Argentina, governed the wheat market today, and election news cut no apparent figure. The world's wheat supply, of which wheat was 11,840,000 bushels larger than a week ago, and totaled 357,407,000 bushels compared with 255,435,000 bushels at this time last year. Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, 1 1/2 at 1 1/4 to 2 1/2 net lower. Corn declined at 1-8 to 5-8 advance, oats 1-8 to 1/2 off, and provisions varying from 2c setback to a rise of 20c.

Corn displayed notable resistance to selling. One reason was prevailing wet weather, unfavorable for husking and for movement of new corn. Moreover, receipts today were relatively small, only 199 cars arriving in Chicago against 312 cars a week ago. There was a prohibitive current of speculation for a prohibitive tariff against corn from Argentina, the ground assigned being that the small amount of Argentine corn imported into the United States has more effect on the market than a couple of hundred million bushels extra of domestic corn on farms. Oats were unsettled, influenced by wheat.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Hog: receipts 19,000; closed mostly 10c lower on hogs scaling over 180 pounds; lighter weights 15 to 25c lower; 18-20 paid 10c advance for choice 200 to 250 pounds; shippers took 1,500; estimated holdover, 5,000.

Whether football referees should wear uniforms is being discussed in England, the question being raised as the result of a gridiron match played on a very hot day. The referee wore blue shorts and a white tennis shirt, with no hat or coat. As the home club's colors were blue and white, a number of players mistook him for a member of the team and passed the ball to him. The football association is considering a uniform for the referee to preclude any such confusion.

The Special Gum-Dipped carcass is the degree of Firestone factories.

Firestone

Gum-Dipped Heavy Duty Pneumatics

The Only Truck and Bus Tire that has its Cords Dipped through a Rubber Solution

Ten plies of Gum-Dipped Cord.
Extra Rubber between all plies.
Twin bead for greater durability and better tire seating.
Two Gum-Dipped cord breakers.
Heat-resisting cushion stock of intermediate stiffness, interlocking cord breaker, two outer plies, tread and carcass.
Extra heavy, tough tread, uniformly distributed and tapered down to form sidewalls.
Heavy inside layer of tough, heat-resisting rubber.

And here is what Gum-Dipping means to a heavy duty tire. At the right a single cord is stripped back from the carcass of a Firestone Gum-Dipped Pneumatic to show how it is composed of small cords, strands and millions of cotton fibers.

Firestone engineers found that by dipping the cords of the carcass in a rubber solution, every fiber of every cord is saturated and insulated with rubber, adding the greatest flexibility and strength and unifying the whole structure of the tire.

And Back of this Record-Breaking Tire is Our Money-Saving Service

Firestone builds in the extra safety, comfort and miles—we help you get these qualities out, when the tires are placed in service on your trucks or buses. This is the combination that is breaking records on leading truck and bus fleets all over the country.

Good results are certain to follow when the tire problem is so carefully studied out in advance by experienced tire men. Right from the start we save you money and serve you better. Come in and look over our facilities, or phone for one of our men to call on you and show you what we have been doing for other truck and bus fleets in this vicinity in recent months.

LOCAL LADY HAD SUFFERED FROM CATARRH 9 YEARS

Says New Dreco Has Been of Wonderful Aid in Restoring Health.

"I can't thank Dreco enough for the great improvement it has made in my health," writes Mrs. Annie Lueneburg, 524 South 19th St. this city, in a recent statement made public by the Dreco man at the Drug Dept. of The Fair Store.

"For the past nine years I have suffered so badly from catarrh of the nose that during all that time I have not been able to breathe thru one of my nostrils. Three days after starting on Dreco this passage cleared up and I can now breathe normally.

"In addition to relieving this severe catarrhal condition Dreco also ended the dizzy spells which would almost make me fall to the floor. The troubles which I had with indigestion, constipation, headaches and impure blood are also rapidly disappearing and I feel 100% better in every way than I did before taking Dreco."

Dreco works on the system in a smooth, gentle manner, eliminating the poisonous waste matter from the bowels and toning up the digestive organs. It relieves gas in the stomach, constipation, headaches, dizziness, catarrh and painful joints. It increases the appetite, promotes sound sleep, builds up vigor and vitality and tones up the whole body.

The Dreco Man is now at Drug Dept., Fair Store, where he is daily explaining the merits of Dreco to numerous local people and presenting everyone who is interested with a valuable health booklet free

Booster Banquet Of Gladstone City Club Tremendous Success

Assembled at one of the finest representative gatherings in Gladstone, close to four hundred residents of Gladstone, men and women, all vitally concerned in the welfare of their community, met Wednesday evening at the Rialto building gymnasium for the Booster banquet sponsored by the Gladstone city club.

Plans for the banquet had been in progress for weeks and last night's gathering from the standpoint of enthusiastic support exceeded even the most optimistic hopes of the backers of the affair.

The crowd, assembled in the lobby and theatre marched into the auditorium at 7 o'clock.

From the assembling and the first song, led by Attorney G. R. Empson, to the closing remarks of President H. J. Norton, toastmaster, the gathering was one of remarkable interest and enjoyment.

The banquet menu, a delicious dinner, was prepared and served by the Ladies' Aid society of Alice Memorial Episcopal church in a manner which was decided credit to them.

During the banquet, the Gladstone high school orchestra under the direction of Van Kniebes, played, and assembly singing was led by Mr. Empson.

Mr. Norton, toastmaster, in opening the after dinner program, for the poor children of the city, they have purchased spectacles for a large number of children whose eyesight was affected, a great deal of warm clothing has been supplied to the poor and various other works of charity too numerous to mention have been accomplished through this group of women.

The proceeds are for a worthy cause and the committee is deserving of the patronage of the general public.

introduced the visiting guests, Brook Jones, chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers; George E. Bishop, secretary-manager of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau; Val Zimmerman, vice president, Midwest Airways, Inc., of Milwaukee, and his associates, and the officers of the Upper Peninsula Airways.

Val Zimmerman, the first speaker on the program, told of flying experiences in a short but interesting talk.

He told of the contemplated tour of upper Michigan and going into the subject of aviation, spoke of the idea of hazard, branding it as false and quoting statistics proving that air travel is safer than car travel.

He praised it as the quickest means of travel and gave a description of the Ryan type of plane and its flying possibilities.

George Bishop, the second speaker, in his introduction spoke of the City Club as a Booster organization, stating it to be a fine thing, employing a group of persons seeing opportunities for development, optimists in their hopes for future development in the upper peninsula.

He spoke of his connection with the upper peninsula development bureau, its activities and the opportunity it gives to know the upper peninsula and its resources, development and its possibilities.

"The dreams of yesterday in Upper Michigan are today's realities in industry," he stated, giving as examples, the iron, copper and lumber industries, agriculture, automobile from downstate and the tourist business.

"Progress in the upper peninsula has kept step with development in means of transportation and communication," he said, giving steps in this development as the means of making a people prosperous, contented and happy.

"We are now upon the dawn of a new era in transportation," he went on, "but we still have to face the stage of unbelief. Plans war, but it has now attained practical use in business, in pleasure trips, in fire fighting, fighting the boll weevil, and in re-forestation. Its greatest use, however, is in transportation of mail, passengers and express."

Passed "Fool" Stage
Aviation has also passed the "fool" stage, he continued, going on to say that there was little now of the tail-spin show-off type of flying. Pilots are now licensed, planes are inspected and flying is a business.

Mr. Bishop spoke of the important step in development in upper Michigan, the Airways Congress at Menominee, out of which came a concerted effort toward development through special committees.

Delta county received high praise, the speaker going from that to his statement that the need in the upper peninsula is for organized endeavor, resulting in more airports and landing places.

In closing he complimented those responsible for the gathering and those assisting in making it a success, stressing the four principles needed for development, organization, harmonizing, standardizing and advertising.

"These will put your town on the map," he exclaimed. "I say to you boosters, get busy. What you do is for the good of yourselves and the good of your town. Get in first and set an example to the upper peninsula."

Brook Jones, of Minneapolis, the speaker of the evening, delivered his address on the subject, "The Common Cause."

Praised City Club
"The business men and laboring men of Gladstone are to be congratulated on having an organization of this kind," he said in his introduction, going on to say that the subject he was about to discuss was one of the most interesting and important subjects of the day.

He defined the business man and defined the laborer and gave a splendid and searching discussion of their relation to each other.

Going from this topic, he took up the business of today, discussing at length the corporation phase of modern business and its off-spring, the chain store, with the resultant problems of the competition between the chain store and the independent store owner.

Both the business man and the laborer, he stated, must realize that they are "workers in a common cause," and that trouble is due to misunderstanding between these two divisions, each going his own way rather than working together, and to shortness of vision.

"Neither can get along without the other," he emphasized. Changes must come about, he went on to say, but these can all be successfully met by reciprocal interest shown by both the laborer and the businessman, and the entire community will be benefited by them when they are met in this fashion.

These great benefits will work to the development to a higher degree of Emerson's principle, "Facility of Association."

Tendency to Cooperate
"There is a greater tendency for business and labor to cooperate in matters of business and in matters relating to the community," he said in closing, ending his talk with a quotation from Robert Burns.

His talk was received with hearty applause.

Mr. Norton, giving a short talk on the City Club, closed the banquet meeting, thanking in his closing words, all those who cooperated in making the banquet the splendid success it was.
